

Diversified Systems Expands NJ Headquarters

July 1, 2005

Diversified Systems has further expanded its nationwide integration capability with the opening of a new 12,000 sq. ft. integration center next door to its existing headquarters in Kenilworth NJ. This brings the total square footage of the NJ operation to 24,000 sq. ft.

The new facility currently houses the engineering department, shipping and receiving, inventory and a large shop fabrication area. "The move into the new facility presented a unique opportunity to lay out a fabrication space to our exact specifications," stated Kevin Collins, Sr. VP who was responsible for managing the move into the new space. "We solicited input from our entire team and the results show in the obvious efficiencies in our new facility."

Since occupying the space in March 2005, Diversified has completed numerous systems for corporate, cable and broadcast clients around the country.
